1. BACKGROUND

The European Defence Agency was established on 12 July 2004, and is governed by Council Decision (CFSP) 2015/1835 defining the statute, seat and operational rules of the European Defence Agency.

The Agency has its headquarters in Brussels.

The main task of the EDA is to support the Council and the Member States in their effort to improve the Union's defence capabilities in the field of crisis management and to sustain the Common Security and Defence Policy (CSDP) as it currently stands and as it develops in the future.

The Agency is structured into four directorates. Three operational directorates: Cooperation Planning & Support; Capability, Armaments & Technology; and European Synergies & Innovation and the Corporate Services Directorate.

2. THE AGENCY'S WAY OF WORKING

The Agency is an "outward-facing" organisation, constantly interacting with its shareholders, the participating Member States, as well as with a wide range of stakeholders. It works in an integrated way, with multi-disciplinary teams representing all the Agency's functional areas, to realise its objectives. Its business processes are flexible and oriented towards achieving results. Staff at all levels need to demonstrate the corresponding qualities of commitment, flexibility, innovation, and team-working; to work effectively with shareholders and stakeholder groups, formal and informal; and to operate without the need for detailed direction.

3. THE CAPABILITY, ARMAMENT & TECHNOLOGY DIRECTORATE

The Capability, Armament & Technology directorate prepares the programmes of tomorrow by maximising synergies between capabilities, armaments and Research & Technology. The directorate brings together the Agency's work in the areas of: Information Superiority (Communication & Information Systems, Surveillance & Reconnaissance, Space, Cyber Defence; Air (Remotely Piloted Aircraft Systems, Air-to-Air Refuelling, airlift and aerial systems technologies); Land (Counter-IED, armoured systems, camp protection and land systems technologies); Maritime (Maritime Surveillance, Mine Counter Measures and naval systems technologies); and the Joint domain (mobility, transport, medical and Ammunition). Particular attention is given to identifying future Critical Defence Technologies needed to support military capabilities.

4. DUTIES

The PO Aviation - Airlift will address primarily issues related to defence capability development in the airlift domain. As from the start of his mandate he/she will be responsible to further developing existing work strands as well as identifying new challenges, chairing meetings and working groups as well as providing advice to the Agency's management, up to the Chief Executive in his/her domains of expertise.

Background and experience should allow him/her to articulate any other air related topic, mainly regarding fixed wing assets.

Under the supervision of the Capability Armament & Technology Director and of the Head of Unit Air Domain, the Project Officer Aviation – Airlift is responsible in particular for the following activities:

- implement EDA's 3 year planning framework in the air domain;
- foster defence cooperative activities among Member States in the air domain;
- chair the EATF Programme Management Committee;
- further develop the EATF Programme Management Plan;
- chair the C27J ad-hoc working group (AHWG) as well as the C295 AHWG and further develop these cooperation concepts both internally and externally;
- chair the Diplomatic Clearances (DIC) AHWG, encourage additional Member States to join the DIC technical arrangement and manage the DIC portal;
- support CPS directorate in the EATF airlift training programme;
- be the primary EDA point of contact for airlift activities, providing expertise both internally and externally;
- support potential cooperative opportunities in the field of Jet Pilot Training on request of Member States;
- follow closely air to air refuelling activities conducted within the Unit;
- take on additional tasks as required in the interest of the service.

Duties will evolve according to development of the EDA's structure and activities, and the decisions of EDA management.

All these activities require strong and effective coordination with a large variety of actors, like the participating Member States, the EUMC, the EUMS, other Council bodies, different Directorates of the EU Commission, international organisations (EATC, EAG, NATO, NSPA, JAPCC, MCCE, etc.) and industries as appropriate.
